

Sample Collection Tube Labeling, Distribution & Storage Services

In addition to the bioanalytical testing and data analysis services which we provide to the pharmaceutical and biotechnology industries, Prevalere Life Sciences, Inc. also provides Sample Collection Tube Labeling, Distribution and Storage Services. These services include the preparation and shipment of sample collection tubes to clinical sites in support of single and multi-center clinical trials. We employ bar coding and labeling technology that is compatible with most others in the industry. This service helps to ensure expedient and accurate processing of samples prior to their analysis at Prevalere.

Key Service Advantages

Distinct and consistent tube labels, complete with Prevalere bar codes, and detailed instructions for sample collection to ensure:

- Consistent and accurate collection of samples at the clinical sites
- Return of samples for storage and/or testing with labels that can be easily and accurately read
- Fast sample log-in and tracking

Bypasses the need for an interim storage facility by eliminating:

- Unnecessary sample handling steps and costs
- Multiple points of contact
- Inconsistencies in sample storage conditions
